Why is it women just can't keep their HANDS off certain guys?

What do these men do differently to get women coming to them?

Is it the looks... the money... the swag... or their skills?

Sure, all of these can help. But we all know a guy who's not rich, tall, or famous... but absolutely slays with the ladies.

So how do they do it?

Well, it has LITTLE to do with the men and MORE to do with a small, olive-sized portion of the woman's brain.

This part, called the amygdala, is responsible for emotion, empathy, aggression and sexual arousal. Which means, the more active this part of her brain is when she's interacting with you - the more she'll crave YOU in her life.

So the question becomes: How do you "hijack" a woman's amygdala to make her desire every inch of you?

Well, that's exactly what we're going to be covering in today's report.

So, unless you're neck deep in hotties begging to spend the night, you might want to check this out.

Let's get straight down to it.

The Simple 'Law' Naturals, Bad Boys, and Romance Novel Studs Follow to Make Women Go Wild!

I call it "The Law Of The Chase".

This "law" states: whoever chases the other person most, feels the most attraction.

The opposite is also true: whoever chases less, holds all the power.

So if you're chasing her, buying her gifts, confessing your feelings to her, or taking her out on expensive dates... then you're losing the game.

You're "chasing" too much. And she knows it.

Despite what you've learned in Disney Movies and Romantic Comedies... women do NOT want a man who chases her. She's not interested in the cute "romantic" guy... and she's not interested in the persistent, pushy guy.

She wants the opposite.

Hundreds of thousands of years of evolution have programmed her to get uncontrollably horny and fall deeply in love with a man she has to chase.

Due to a weird psychological truth called "effort justification", when a woman picks her mate she will ALWAYS pick the man that's "harder to get".

This powerful, proven psychological truth states that the more effort a woman puts into something, the more she values it.

But if you sneak in a few subtle "triggers" into your conversation... SHE will be the one who puts in all the effort to win you over... while you seem like you're barely trying.

But How Exactly Do You Make Her Chase You?

Well, the secret is to "trick" her mind - using the Amygdala Hijack method - into chasing you.

If that sounds manipulative to you - trust me, it's not.

Almost all of the world's best ladies men use techniques similar to the ones I'm about to teach you... whether they know it or not. It's why some poor and ugly men regularly get chased by stunning women, while many rich, attractive men have to pay to get laid.

It's the exact reason why there's nothing remotely natural about how "naturals" get so many girls. They simply use these scientifically proven 'Amygdala Activity Triggers' that I'm about to expose.

To teach you this, I need to show you why this works. Because when you understand why this works, you can use it not just on women, but on anyone you want to persuade to do pretty much anything...

As a famous psychological study done at Stanford years ago proved, a woman's mating response is triggered by acts of service ...

Think about it like this:

Back in ancient times women used to be men's servants. Hell, they used to be our slaves...

What You're About To Learn Takes A Woman Back To The Days When Her DNA Was First Encoded To Be Your Sex Servant...

Back then there were no "women's rights"...

There was no "choice"...

If you triggered the right response in her, she was there to serve you no matter what. And you can trigger this same response in her nowadays, using a few simple techniques that hijack her amygdala.

I call these "Chase Triggers" because of their uncanny power to make a woman chase you, until she's practically naked begging for sex.

\(Click Here To Discover The Strange True Story Behind How I Discovered These Chase Triggers\)

These are simple little behaviors that any guy can do, that "flip the script" on her, and make her start chasing you - even if you're definitely not her type.

So, right now, I'd like to teach you a few of these "chase triggers", so you can use them on that girl you want so badly:

Chase Trigger #1: The “Drink”

Here’s a simple technique that exploits the “Law Of The Chase”...

This one works best at bars, because you need a drink to do it. Here’s what to do:

First, have an awesome picture in your phone ready. Maybe it’s your dog. Or something fun you did last weekend. Any picture that you can casually bring up in conversation.

Next, start talking about that subject with her for a few minutes. Let’s say it’s a picture of your dog... then steer the conversation topic to pets and your dog.

And then say, “wait - I have to show you a picture of him! Here, hold this.” and hand her your drink as you retrieve your phone...

You see, very few men will ever ask a woman to hold their drink. It’s more effort than she’s used to putting into a guy she just met.

She usually only does things like this for men she’s very attracted to.

Yet it would be rude for her to say no. After all, you’re about to show her a picture of your cute dog. Plus you’re literally putting the drink in her hand.

And the mere act of holding your drink ignites that powerful psychological law I taught you: “effort justification”.

When she puts this small amount of effort into you, her logical brain will ask, “wait, do I like this guy?”

And hundreds of thousands of years of DNA encoding in a woman’s brain will force her emotional, cavewoman brain to instantly fire off the answer:

“YES, you MUST... You would NOT be doing this for him if you didn’t like him...”

And you’ll be shocked at how she starts to subtly chase you for the rest of the evening...

Chase Trigger #2: The “F-Word”

I really like this one, because it’s so easy to use, and it’s completely rejection proof.

When you drop this “F” word in a conversation with a girl you’re flirting with, it works like magic to make her start chasing you.

So what is this magic “F Word”? It’s “friend”.

Here’s what to do: Next time you’re flirting with a woman, call her your “friend” as much as possible.

For example, if she says something nice to you, you might respond with, “Awww, thanks for saying that Annie, you’re such a good friend.”

Or if you’re at a party you could say, “Hey friend, what are you up to?” It seems simple... but this one little word will blow her mind.

Here’s why:

Calling her a “friend” is a good thing. It’s a positive attribute. You’re not putting her down or being mean.

But it also implies a platonic friendship, not a sexual or romantic relationship.

And if she’s attractive, she’s not used to a guy putting her in the friend zone.

It makes her feel like she still has a little more work if she really wants to win you over.

This is the same psychology that causes women to chase after celebrities, and rock-stars. She feels like these type of men are “hard to get”. Which causes her to chase them.

When you call a girl your “friend” you instantly set yourself apart from all the other men in her life who are chasing her.

Which sets the stage for HER to start chasing YOU... even if she’s completely turned off by your looks or age at first. She still wants to know that she could have you if she wanted you. This will cause her to subtly start flirting with you.

This is the exact way you make even the snobbiest “10” start chasing YOU (instead of the tall, rich guy that’s been buying her drinks and whispering in her ear all night).

And as you just learned, because of “effort justification” and “the law of the chase”, the more she starts flirting with you and chasing you... the more she will continue to do so. As long as you know how to keep her interested.

Chase Trigger #3: Reverse Psychology

When you use this technique, you’re going to tell her reasons why you wouldn’t be a good match.

What?!

It’s counterintuitive, yes, but playfully telling a girl reasons why she shouldn’t date you, actually causes her to want to date you.

You know the old saying... “women want what they can’t have”?

Well, there is some truth in it. You can use “reverse psychology” to make a woman chase you.

As long as you do it right.

Here’s some examples of the right way to use reverse psychology:

“We could never date. We’re too damn similar. We have so much in common that we’d probably end up hating each other. I’m glad we’re just friends.”

Or...

“God you’re amazing. It’s too bad you’re blonde... blonde girls are my kryptonite. If you weren’t blonde, I’d probably fall totally in love with you.”

Or...

“You are just too much fun! We need to stop hanging out... or else you’re going to get me in trouble.”

All of these examples should be said with a HUGE smile on your face. She should get the hint that you’re being a little bit playful... but still feel some uncertainty about whether you like her or not.

Logically, these statements don’t really make sense. But they confuse her, and spike her emotions - which is EXACTLY the kind of thing that makes her want you.

If she pokes and prods and asks you a follow up question like “what do you mean??”, then I want you to respond by saying, “don’t worry about it” with a big grin on your face, and change the subject.

Do you see how this kind of uncertainty could drive a girl crazy for you?

Can you understand that if she’s even a tiny bit attracted to you, these statements could make her start chasing you?

If you answered yes, then congrats! You’re starting to get it :)

This Is Just The Tip Of The Iceberg. Here’s The Entire SYSTEM For Making Gorgeous Women Chase You All The Way To The Bedroom...

In this short report, I’ve unveiled the basics of how to get most any woman chasing YOU.

In fact, the three techniques you just learned are just my “beginners level” tactics.

They work like gangbusters. And you should use them ASAP on any girl you want.

But if you want to keep a girl interested, to the point she’s basically dragging you to the bedroom...

Then you need to see the entire system. A system that is only available for a very limited time:

>> Click Here To Discover The A to Z System for Making Women Chase YOU

In this video, you'll discover a simple step-by-step method for making that girl you've had your eye on start calling, texting, and setting up dates with YOU!

You'll also discover the one tiny thing to do within 5 seconds of meeting a new woman, that makes her instantly respect you and try to earn your affection and attention. (even if she seems out of your league)

You'll learn 7 "temptation" lines that make a woman chase you. Slip just one of these into your next normal conversation and notice how her pupils dilate and she starts blushing more... If you slip another temptation line into the same conversation, you'll love when her hand slides over your thigh and she makes the first move on you.

And you'll see 3 "instant horniness triggers" to use in any situation, that cause women to notice you, lock eyes, and after a few short seconds, walk up to you, smile and shyly introduce themselves... all without you saying a word or approaching her.

Watch this tutorial now, while it's still online... and discover my A to Z process for making most any woman you desire pursue YOU...without having to spend money on her.

Life is too short to spend without the kind of woman you want.

It's too short to not have all the hot, exciting sex you want.

And it's too short to settle instead of falling wildly in love, with a woman who treats you like a king.

So don't put this off until it's too late. You're worth it.

Cheers,

Harvey Black
